Theme : Way To Serenity

For so many people in desperate situations—seeking peace, strength, and wisdom – those simple words, whispered to a “God as they understand him,” have seen them through the darkest hours.

They have come to believe that those qualities can come only from a power greater than themselves. And because they believe, they find the serenity, courage and wisdom they seek from somewhere outside themselves outside themselves to face another situation, another step, and another day.

Although literally millions of people – in and out of the recovery community --- have been helped and strengthened by those few lines, few are aware they are actually the first stanza of the entire prayer as penned in 1943 by Reinhold Niebuhr, who may not be the original author, however.

For those who may be curious, and for those who are seeking the full power that lies within, we present here the complete and unabridged way to serenity...
